The Coming Of Peace

The 28th day of June will stand for all time as one of the most memorable dates in the calendar, and as one of the most important anniversaries for future generations to celebrate for it was on this date in the year of grace, 1919, that the Treaty of Versailles was signed, thus officially ending the Great War which began in 1914.

By a strange coincidence, it was on June 28, 1914, that Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary, was murdered at Sarajevo. It was this tragedy that was assigned as the reason for Austria declaring war on Serbia, and thereby precipitating the world conflict which shook the world to its very foundations. The signing of the peace treaty on June 28, five years later, was not by re-arrangement, the date having been postponed from time to time in order to complete negotiations, and finally to enable Germany to secure the consent of some of her leading men to assume the responsibility of affixing their signatures to the document.

It is not necessary at this time to recall the detailed terms of the peace treaty which Germany, after many declarations that she would never sign, finally bowed to the inevitable and signed unconditionally. Suffice it to say, that it is probably the most humiliating admission of defeat, and the acceptance of the most abject terms of punishment that any great nation in all the world's history ever signed. Yet Germany had to sign. The only alternatives were anarchy at home, and the ultimate occupation of the whole country by the armies of the allies.

It is a stern peace, but a just peace. It had to be stern in order to be just. Even so, it is undoubtedly a more merciful peace for Germany than Prussian militarism would have enforced on the allies had Germany proved victorious in the war. This fact is proven by the statements of leading German statesmen and semi-official newspapers made in the days when victory for Germany appeared to be not at all improbable.

The great work of world reconstruction has now to be undertaken. It will call for the patience, wisdom and energy of the statesmen and people of all nations in order that it may be successfully accomplished. The problems confronting the world on a return to peace are quite as great as the problems which arose in the prosecution of the war; in fact, the peace problems are more complex and will be found even more difficult of solution. They cannot be solved in a year, or in several years, but for long years, even generations to come, the nations will find it necessary to deal with acute questions which had their origin in the Great War.

The allies will for a long time to come have to remain prepared and watchful of Germany. Germany, although defeated and accepting the terms imposed upon her, is far from repentant. There has been no regeneration in Germany. At heart the people are still arrogant and defiant, but for the time being impotent and helpless. The spirit of Germany has not changed, and although it may now style itself a republic and not an empire, there is lacking any real evidence of the sincere acceptance of democratic institutions.

Throughout the war Germany proved to be a treacherous and barbaric foe. She treated her solemn treaty obligations as "scraps of paper." On the eve of the signing of the peace treaty she gave further evidence of the fact that she has not reformed in this respect. The sinking of the surrendered German fleet at Scapa Flow was a characteristic piece of German treachery and a violation of the laws of war. By the terms of the armistice Germany was required to surrender her fleet. She accepted those terms. The fleet was interned at Scapa Flow. Then on the eve of the signing of peace the Germans scuttled the ships, destroying property which did not belong to them.

By this act the German navy added the crowning infamy to its history. Its record all through has been one of villainy. It skulked in its harbors and made war by submarine assassination; it surrendered without a fight; and after the surrender it treacherously destroyed the surrendered property. This act, without a parallel in the history of the world, imposes on the allies the necessity of keeping a close eye on Germany in the years to come to ensure that she lives up to the terms of the peace treaty she has now signed.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, itching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let falleroute of infection or lockjaw from whitening his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

"There's a Reason"

TIRE PEOPLE ARE DEBILITATED

Full Health and Strength Can Only Be Regained By Enriching the Blood

People who have not had all the time and never feel rested, even after a long night in bed, people who cannot regain weight and strength, who feel no joy in living are in a condition described by doctors as general debility. A medical examination might show that every organ in the body is acting normally, but the pallor of the face will usually show that the blood is weak and watery. This is the root of the trouble.

Debility is a loss of vitality, not affecting any one part of the body, but the system generally. The blood goes to every part of the body and the use of a blood tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly tones up the whole system. The first sign of returning health is a better appetite, an improved digestion, a quicker step and better color in the cheeks. The rich, red blood, reaching every organ and muscle, carries new health and vigor. The nerves are quieted, sleep becomes more refreshing, and with persistent treatment and a good diet the patient is once more enabled to enjoy life.

The case of Mr. W. Dostler, R. E. No. 4, Tilsonburg, Ont., illustrates the great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in such cases. Mr. Dostler says: "I was troubled with pains throughout my whole body, was extremely nervous, did not sleep at night, and was further afflicted with rheumatism. In spite of different treatments this condition persisted. I was growing weaker, and had fallen away in weight to 130 pounds and was scarcely able to do any work. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after a few weeks there was a noticeable improvement in my condition. I continued taking the pills, constantly gaining until I was able to do my work. While taking the pills my weight increased to 170 pounds, and I can now do as good a day's work as anyone. My advice if you are not feeling well is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they will soon put you right."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the more speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Plans Trains Of Air Cars

The First Step Toward the Creation of an Aerial Train

The keenest interest has been aroused in various circles in London by a report from the Hague that Herr Fokker, the Dutch inventor of the German battleplane, and pioneer of the works that manufactured it, proposes having himself seated in one airplane and towed by another plane. This is the first step toward the creation of an aerial train, the idea being an aerial locomotive with a chain of cars, similar to a modern railway train.

Herr Fokker has a specially constructed monoplane without motor ready for the experiment, but has great difficulty in getting an airman to lead the airplane. A flying train of air cars, some for baggage and some for passengers, is said to be the dream of this Dutch inventor.

Chinese Firecrackers

Canton District Is the Centre of This Kind of Firecracker

China invented gunpowder and popularized fire-crackers. The cheapest kind of firecrackers is made of gunpowder rolled up in coarse bamboo paper with a covering of red paper, red being regarded by the Chinese as bringing good luck. Alum is used to neutralize the smoke. The Canton district is the centre of this industry. The Chinese seem to use firecrackers on every occasion—to send a parting guest, in wedding celebrations, on festivals and birthdays, and to dispel evil and bring good omens. China exports about £600,000 worth a year.

C.P.R. Offers Cup
for Spring Wheat

In connection with the International Soil products Exposition, which will be held at Kansas City, Mo., September 24th to October 4th, the Department of Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a Silver Cup to the value of $500 for the best half bushel of hard spring wheat exhibited. It is hoped that every farmer in Alberta, who has a good sample of wheat this year will submit a half bushel in this competition. Those competing for this cup will automatically become competitors for the prizes offered by the International Farming Congress in this class which include a first, second and third prize. In addition they have a chance of winning the sweepstakes for wheat. The winning sample of hard spring wheat is usually the best exhibit of wheat shown at the exposition and thus wins the sweepstakes prize, and the exhibits from Western Canada generally carry all before them in this class. Last year the C.P.R. cup, the sweepstakes for wheat and the first prize for hard spring wheat were won by Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern, Sask., with H. B. Sheeley, of High River, a good second. No cup was offered by the C.P.R. in 1917, but the sweepstakes for wheat and first prize for hard spring wheat were won by Samuel Larcombe, of Birtle, Manitoba, in that year.

In addition to the above, other valuable prizes will be offered for every variety of field crops. Of late years farmers from Western Canada have carried away a lion's share of these prizes, and no doubt their exhibits will be conspicuous again this year. An official premium list of the exposition should be ready in a few days, and a copy can no doubt be obtained by writing the Secretary of the International Farm Congress at Kansas City, Mo.

Britain Planning Air Supremacy

Government Subsidies Urged By Committee of Civil Investors

London.—Great Britain is actively engaged in laying the foundation of a world-wide aerial supremacy as complete as was her maritime supremacy prior to the war. Her plans to achieve this important object were started even before this country entered the war.

Moreover, she is completely convinced that aerial transportation will revolutionize her widespread empire and firmly weld it together by the speed that is the chief attribute of aircraft.

Realizing the importance aeronautics would play in the economic development of the world in general, and the reconstruction period after the war in particular, the British Government appointed the Civil Aerial Transport Committee May 22, 1917, to "consider and report to the Air Ministry with regard to:

(1) The steps which should be taken with a view to the development and regulation after the war of aviation for civil and commercial purposes from a domestic, imperial and an international standpoint.

(2) The extent to which it will be possible to utilize for the above purpose the trained personnel and the aircraft which the conclusion of peace may leave surplus to the requirements of the naval and military services of the United Kingdom and overseas dominions."

The report lays down the possibility of commercial air routes throughout British dominions, but says in connection therewith:

"We recognize, however, that military considerations must override all others."

By far the most remarkable portion of the report is the reservation made by Frank Pick, one of the members of the committee, when signing it. In it Mr. Pick says:

"The strategic position of this country in relation to the air differs fundamentally from the strategic position in relation to the sea. So long as the shores of the North Atlantic are occupied by the leading civilized peoples so long the British position is advantageous as a centre of sea power. But if air power is to usurp to any degree the place of sea power, and this seems probable so long as flight over land holds appreciable advantages over flight over sea, so the position of a country placed centrally as regards land must be superior to the position of a country placed centrally as regards water.

"The right to pass across other national territory without let or hindrance, relief from varying tariffs and conditions attaching to flight which may be onerous and irksome, the absence of customs restraints or tariff restrictions, and generally the absence of the apparatus for hampering or artificially routing trade are all wanted. On all these grounds it is submitted that the case for an international settlement is strengthened."

The committee has exhaustively studied the possibilities of aerial transport with rigid dirigible airships. The investigation covers special voyages made in the giant sixty-ton airships of the R-34 type developed by the naval section of the British air force.

General Mailland himself in a review of the airship situation makes this prediction:

"The many practical advantages which the airship possesses for commercial purposes are not, perhaps, always appreciated."

"Present day airships, which in no way approach the limit of size, have a disposable lift of more than thirty tons, which enables them to embark on long flights without the necessity of descending for replenishment of fuel."

"There is no reason why an airship should not be fitted with engines as silent as those of a motor car. Sleeping accommodations can, in any case, be provided well away from the power plant, and there is complete absence of such noises as the singing of wires which would detract from the comfort of passengers in an airplane."

"The power plant can be readily split up into as many units as desired, and failure in the power plant does not involve immediate descent, while running repairs can easily be effected in the air."

"Even with landing grounds only ten miles apart, an airplane would be compelled to fly at a minimum height of about 3,000 feet, whereas an airship can cruise safely a few hundred feet above the ground, which considerably enhances the pleasure of the passengers by affording them an opportunity of enjoying the scenery."

Market For Canada's Flax

Great Opportunity for Exporters in This Country

Montreal.—If Canada has the flax, there is a splendid market open for it in the United Kingdom. That was the opinion expressed in Montreal by Mr. John Rae, of an old-established firm in London, who has visited many Canadian centres in order to ascertain the supplies of flax available for export from the Dominion.

Before the war, Mr. Rae pointed out, Great Britain secured the bulk of her flax from Russia, Holland and Belgium. At one stroke Russia is out of the market, while the supplies from Holland and Belgium are very limited, hence the British traders have cast their eyes toward Canada in the hope of finding a source of supply here. Mr. Rae pointed out that if Canada could complete with foreign countries, he did not see why she did not make a bid for that market and thus establish another export connection. This was the opportunity for Canada to develop this market while the other sources of supply are unable to continue under the abnormal conditions. With proper handling and a good quantity of flax, there was a great opportunity for exporters in this country.

To handle the flax from the sowing to the finished product he did not think was advisable in Canada at the present time.

Canada's Aerial Record

London.—At a dinner of the Canadian air force at Shoreham the pilots assembled there had destroyed an aggregate of 219 enemy machines. Gen. Currie announced that the air force would be maintained in Canada. He advocated the retention of identity of units that had served in France in the reorganized militia to maintain the traditions built up in the field.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite is lost, the mind grows weak, feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night, and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock, we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, suffering from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without reeling over."

I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person."

I can never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their hearts."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold at all druggists, or on order by mail on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Fate Of An Arctic Aviator

Three Intrepid Men Have Never Been Heard From

The recent attempt to cross the Atlantic by aeroplane recalls to mind the fact that an attempt was made to fly to the North Pole in a balloon 20 years ago, by the noted Swedish scientist and aeronaut, Salomon August Andree and his two companions, Nils Strindberg and Ferdinand Frinkel.

The three intrepid men were last seen sailing over the snowy peaks of Spitzbergen and have never been heard of since. Their fate is a mystery locked away in the vast silences of the lands of eternal snow and ice.

Andree was not only an expert balloonist, he was also a skillful artist, and he had carefully studied the question of Polar exploration. He had observed that at certain seasons of the year a steady current of air floated toward the north. Andree's plan was to set sail in this current, float over the pole, alight and take observations, and then wait for a favorable current to bear him home again. This, it must be remembered, was before balloons and aeroplanes had reached their present state of efficiency.

King Oscar II, of Sweden himself was a heavy subscriber to the fund which made the attempt possible, and at last, after months of waiting, the balloon was set free from its moorings on the 11th of July, 1899. Disaster threatened at the very outset, for the balloon dipped suddenly, and only the frantic throwing overboard of ballast enabled the vessel to rise. It was not long before it was lost to sight. It was never seen again.

Twelve months of anxiety and suspense followed, and then the Swedish government sent out three search parties. Various rumors were traced to their source; every possible clue was followed up, but without any tangible result. One circumstantial report was to the effect that the Eskimos in the Northwest had seen a "great white house" descending from the skies, and that three men, starved to death, had been found in it.

Campaign On Anarchists

U.S. Government Makes Provision for Vigorous Steps Against Extremists

Washington.—Provision for vigorous steps by the federal government against bomb throwers and other anarchists and radicals, declared by government officials to be plotting the overthrow of the government, and spending $2,000,000 monthly to that end, were made in the sundry civil appropriation bill, as reported to the senate.

In reporting the bill, the senate appropriations committee increased from $1,400,000 to $2,000,000 the fund of the department of justice for general suppression of crime. In addition, it added $300,000 for a special fund to enforce the law against alien anarchists through deportations.

English Primate And Dry America

One of the Bravest Things History Had to Show

London, England.—Presiding at the annual meeting of the Church of England Temperance Society at Lambeth Palace, the Archbishop of Canterbury described the drink prohibition in America as one of the most remarkable episodes in the whole history of social reform. "Our American brothers," he said, "always do things on an exceptional scale. There are never any half measures or any doubt about what they mean."

His Grace said that he had found the strongest difference of opinion amongst Americans as to what would happen during the next year. If everything went as it was supposed to go, America would be dry from ocean to ocean. How far facts would correspond with theory, and practice answer to law, they could not say, and he did not think it was wise to dogmatize as to what would be the result of prohibition. None of them, however, would be in any doubt as to the thankful recognition they would give to what was one of the bravest things history had to show—of a nation grappling with a nation's peril.

In England the best general public opinion had supported the restrictive policy which had been in force even where it had been most severely applied. Where restrictions were thought likely to prove most unpopular they had proved nothing of the kind. It would be fatuous today, because war was over, in regions where restrictions had proved to be not very unpopular, to relax these restrictions, because a certain number of people had interests involved. They must be resolved to use every bit of influence they could to secure the continuance of restrictions which had been proved to work so well.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice as a means of removing complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white to the bottle, then shake well, and you have a whole quart pot of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and neck, it should lead to bleach, clear, smooth and beautify the skin.

An angust will supply three ounces of orchard white at a very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Hollow Assumes Responsibility

Berlin.—Von Bethmann Hollweg, former German chancellor, has formally asked the allied and associated powers to place him on trial instead of the former emperor. The former chancellor says that he assumes responsibility for the acts of Germany during his term of office and places himself at the disposal of the allies.

Under this instrument, Poland agrees to protect the minorities against discrimination, assumes payment of such share of the Russian debt as shall be assigned to her by the inter-allied commission, and agrees to support important international postal, railway, telegraphs and miscellaneous conventions and other undertakings incidental to the establishment of a national standing.

London.—No selection of an ambassador to Washington to succeed the Earl of Reading has yet been made by the British government, Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, stated in the House of Commons. Various suggestions have been made for filling the embassy post, Mr. Bonar Law said, but so far the government had been unable to get any of the gentlemen it desired to accept the appointment.

Postal Workers Have Failed To Attain Object

Ottawa.—The government has decided that it cannot concede from the policy it has so far pursued in the matter of locked-out postal workers in Winnipeg. A delegation of members of the Amalgamated Postal Workers took a train back to the West, having failed in an attempt to persuade the government to reconsider its policy of making permanent appointments of postal employees who acted as strike breakers when the regular postal employees came out in a sympathetic strike on May 15.

The delegation was composed of C. Silvertz, president of the Amalgamated Postal Workers, Victoria; L. Pick-up, Winnipeg; J. V. Johnston, Winnipeg; and A. Venables, Calgary.

"We came at the request of the strikers," said Mr. Silvertz, "with a view to securing a modification of the position the government has taken on this question. We could not ask for less than reinstatement for the employees locked out."

"In an interview with Sir Robert Borden, the premier said the question resolved itself into three points:

"1. Reinstatement as requested.

"2. To modify its attitude and re-instate some of the men; or,

"3. Adhere rigidly to the terms of the ultimatum issued by Hon. Mr. Meighen.

"We went before the cabinet for its reply, and it does not see its way clear to recede from the position it has already taken. We have failed in our object."

Belgium Ratifies Peace Treaty

Patriotic Demonstration in Parliament in Course of Proceedings

Brussels.—The Belgian foreign minister introduced bills in the chamber ratifying the treaty with Germany and the agreements connected with the treaty. The president of the chamber read a letter from King Albert congratulating the chamber and the country on the victory achieved after the horrors of war and exhorting the country to be united in the efforts necessary to the work of restoration and reorganization. The reading of the letter was greeted with a great patriotic demonstration.

The senate passed bills providing for due expression of the nation's homage, to those killed in battle or executed during the war.

No Abatement in Forest Fires
Halifaxbury, Ont.—Two more settlers in the bush country west of the town are reported to have lost their farm buildings in the Sharp Lake fire, which is still raging. The victims are named Olsen and Fernholm. Other properties are in grave danger as the flames are spreading before a rising wind.

Some slight showers of rain are reported to have fallen in different parts of the country, but the effect on the fires have been negligible. At Fredrick House the plant of the Beaver Board company is menaced, but is still standing.

Winnipeg Strike Solved Nothing
Winnipeg.—The Western Labor News says:

"After nearly nine weeks of strike and strife the metal shop workers went back to work. That is, the strike is off, though some men are not reinstated and some others refuse to go back on the conditions offered."

"The big three employers are still opposed to collective bargaining, as understood by trades unions. They refuse to deal with the business agents of the unions. Some of the smaller firms do recognize the unions in the true sense."

Saskatoon.—At the Empire theatre in Saskatoon and the Regina theatre, Regina, for the fair weeks there will be offered three times each day one of the famous Pathefrances vaudeville shows. These will comprise some 20 or 30 of the premiere vaudeville artists of the day, offering, in conjunction with movies, a two-hour show that should be a welcome added attraction to the already strong fair attractions.

Food Riots In Italy

Protests at Price of Food of Serious Nature

Forli, Italy.—After a great meeting here, in which a vast crowd protested against the high cost of living, the people, excited by inflammatory speeches, attacked, sacked and destroyed many shops which refused to sell commodities at lower prices. Soon the fury of the mob made no distinction and had no limits. All the principal shops were plundered and the mobs controlled the entire city. They took possession of lorries and transported all kinds of goods and food supplies from the pillaged shops to the chamber of labor.

On the walls of the chamber they wrote: "These goods are at the disposal of the people."

The situation grew worse during the day, assuming a "revolutionary" character, and the mob continued to loot and destroy all kinds of property.

The food riots here, however, differ fundamentally from those at Spezia and June. At Spezia the rioters looted for their own advantage, while at Forli most of the wheat taken from the shops was transferred to the care of the municipality or the chamber of labor to be distributed to the people at low prices.

The value of the goods stored by the municipality was estimated at $8,000,000 lire. The owners of those shops which escaped sacking brought their keys to the municipality, which is composed of socialists and republicans, and they ordered that the shops be reopened and the goods sold for half price under the supervision of representatives of the demonstrating masses.

Despite this apparent return to order in the riotous moment, the losses are enormous owing to the destruction of shop fittings and commodities which could not be easily transported, such as gasoline, which was burned in great quantities.

Polish Claims To Successes

Ukrainian Front Pierced and Bolshevik Forces Repulsed Everywhere

Paris.—The Polish forces have started a counter-offensive along the whole Galician-Volynian front, according to advices from Warsaw. The Poles claim that they have everywhere broken through the Ukrainian forces, and that the Lemberg-Halich railway line again in Polish hands. The Ukrainians suffered severe casualties, 3,000 prisoners, 30 machine guns and huge stores being captured.

It seems that the Ukrainians were everywhere taken by surprise, and gave way at all points. The Poles occupied Brody, Pluchow, Ponomaz and Brzezany, taking 1,000 additional prisoners and much booty. The Lemberg message says that the Poles have pierced the Ukrainian front at several points. Crowds of Ukrainian prisoners are arriving at Lemberg and the population of the evacuated regions are returning. Bolshevik forces began an attack on the Polish front, but were everywhere repulsed.

Cossacks Break Through

Ekatcrinodar.—The Don Cossacks have captured Millerovo and broken the Bolshevik front north of Millerovo. In their successful advance the Kuban Cossacks put to rout four infantry and two cavalry regiments of the Bolshevik forces. West of Ekatcrinodar, the Bolsheviks have been defeated on the Kerch peninsula on the eastern end of the Crimea.

Toronto Strike Figures

Toronto.—There are now 11,000 workers on strike in Toronto, according to figures furnished by the various trades affected. They are: Metal trades, 7,000; street railwaymen, 2,200; garment workers, 1,800.

Charleston, S.C.—A trainload of Germans, formerly interned at Fort Oglethorpe, embarked on the transport Princess Matoka for Rotterdam to be repatriated.

Reign Of Terror In Russia

Women and Children Are Slain By the Bolsheviks

New York.—A graphic story of a reign of terror in Bolshevik Russia is recited by John A. Embury, United States consul at Omsk, the seat of the Kolchak government, who has arrived here on a leave of absence. Mr. Embury declared no language could adequately picture the scenes of murder, violation of women, arson and theft which he had seen personally or had described to him by credible eye-witnesses.

Mr. Embury backed his story, particularly that of the ravage of the city of Ufa, by photographs, many of which he declared he had taken himself, and which record appalling instances of wholesale butchery of women and children.

Mr. Embury said he had visited Ufa immediately after the Bolshevik withdrawal before Kolchak's forces. He learned from survivors of Bolshevik occupation, he said, that the Bolshevik soldiers had looted the entire city and then organized a "government" consisting of committees. One of these committees, he said, was called the extraordinary committee on executions.

This committee, he declared, had all members of the city government rounded up and ordered virtually all of them shot. The head of the committee, he said, had personally executed the president of the council, who was brought before him on a stretcher.

A few days after his arrival in Ufa, Mr. Embury said he followed a crowd of residents into a nearby wood, where they came upon scores of bodies of women and children, disclosed by the melting snow, which had been driven into the woods and brutally slain. He exhibited a photograph showing twenty of these victims, the bodies of many mangled almost past recognition. About 200 bodies were found in the woods, he said. Pupils at the Ufa high school, he said, had been lined up and questioned as to their sympathies, and all who did not profess sympathy for the Bolsheviks were shot or put to work of the most degrading character.

At Omsk, a city of about 30,000, Mr. Embury declared 2,000 bodies were found on the outskirts when the snow melted. He displayed photographs of some of these victims taken by Col. Tessler of the American Red Cross.

Pensions Bill Is Up For Discussion

New Measure Considered Satisfactory By Major Williams, M.P.

Vancouver.—"A new pensions' bill will be brought in parliament this session. It will not please everyone. It does not meet entirely with my approval, but I want to tell you that it undoubtedly meets the most general provisions of any pensions' bill in the world," said Major George H. Andrews, M.P. for Centre Winnipeg, speaking as a delegate at the G.W.V.A. convention.

The statement made by Major Andrews followed the presentation by the resolutions committee of a long resolution comprising no fewer than 17 sections, in which the desires of the veterans as set out in a large number of resolutions from various branches had been incorporated, and which it was hoped that the Dominion convention would endorse.

Builders Are Back

The contractors began to rush plans for construction that was in prospect this spring, and whose abandonment has not been forced by the shortness of the remaining building season.

Council Of Five Directs Conference

Peace River Coal Leases Cancelled

Smoky River Leases Were Subject of Investigation By Senate Committee

Ottawa.—As a result of the investigation by the select committee of the senate appointed several days ago to enquire into the question of certain valuable coal leases in the Smoky River district of the Alberta Peace river, some 200 miles north of Edmonton, leases have been cancelled by orders of Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior. As a consequence the application for the right to build a railway to be known as the Athabasca, Grande Prairie and Vermilion railway will go no further than its present stage.

Officials of the geological survey branch have testified before the senate committee that the coal area in question is probably the richest in Canada, and of developed and connected with the main lines to the south it would be able to supply the whole of the west with a coal almost equal in quality to the Pennsylvania anthracite.

Hoover Resigns As Food Controller

Will Remain as Director of Newly-Organized Grain Corporation

New York.—The resignation of Herbert Hoover as chairman of the board of directors of the food administration grain corporation and reorganization of the corporation under the name "United States Grain Corporation" was announced at the annual meeting of stockholders here.

Hoover's place as chairman will be filled by Julius Barney, wheat director, who also is president of the corporation. It was said Mr. Hoover would continue as a director, but that his resignation of the chairmanship marked the first step toward his retirement from public life.

Help In Time Of Trouble

Britain and States to Act in Concert in Aiding France

Paris.—The Franco-British and Franco-American treaty, the Journal says, provide that the intervention of Great Britain and the United States on behalf of France against Germany shall be inter-dependent. Great Britain and the United States, it is advised, will only help France by approved action and not separately. The treaty declares that their intervention must occur if the disarmament of the Rhine territory is not sufficient to protect France from German aggression.

A Huge Contract

Reconstruction Is Started By A Big Outlay In France

Paris.—A vast reconstruction program for the whole of France at an estimated cost of 40,000,000,000 francs was announced in the chamber of deputies by M. Bedouce, budget reporter, during the debate on public works. The plan includes reconstruction of railroads, some of which will be electrified, and large projects for building canals and improving harbors.

New York.—A contract for rebuilding of the war ravaged Nancy district of France has been awarded to the Vulcan Steel Products company of New York, at an estimated price of $250,000,000, it is learned in financial circles here.

Revolt Stalks In Berlin

Berlin.—The communistic leaven has again arrived at the fermenting stage in Greater Berlin, and there were indications that the strike movement may develop into a political insurrection. The candor and boldness with which the independent Socialists and their Communist henchmen are playing their cards shows they feel more sure of their footing than during the March revolt.

Paris.—Premier Clemenceau, Foreign Minister Balfour, Secretary of State Lansing, Foreign Minister Pichon, Baron Makino and Viscount Chinda of Japan, and Foreign Minister Tittoni of Italy, decided to constitute a new council of five. This council of five will have as its members Foreign Minister Balfour, Secretary Lansing, M. Pichon, Foreign Minister Tittoni and Baron Makino, head of the Japanese delegation. The council will temporarily assume direction of peace conference affairs. A council of ten will not be constituted at the present.

Foreign Minister Tittoni made it clear at the meeting that Italy desires that all territory taken from Austria be determined in the Austrian treaty. This immediately projects into the foreground the Fiume question, which it had been hoped could be avoided.

While the council received the admission from Signor Tittoni that the new Italian delegates will be more conservative than the old, it was a distinct disappointment when Tittoni expressed Italy's desire to have all the territory taken from Austria definitely allotted in the Austrian treaty, as this forebodes a lengthy discussion.

The council decided to appoint immediately a committee to execute the Austrian treaty, also a committee for the execution of reparations, and a third to cull the Bulgarian frontier.

The council will hear the remaining delegates and M. Maklakhoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris, on the Rumanian boundary, and especially the disposition of Bessarabia, a large part of which Rumania claims, and is at present administering, much against the Russian commission in Paris. The Russian insist that Rumania seized this territory under the guise of a specially created local government, which immediately ceased to exist after the Rumanians gained control.

The agreements between France and the United States, and France and Great Britain, for the defence of France against attack by Germany, it is understood, will not become valid as far as Great Britain is concerned until the Franco-United States convention is ratified by the United States senate.

Belgium has named its two members of the commission which will revise the treaty of 1839, and the peace conference has requested Holland to name its members so that a meeting can be held soon in Paris.

Ancient Jerusalem Is Spottless Town

First Christian Governor Cleaned Up After Turks

Jerusalem.—The first Christian governor of Jerusalem is a big man's son, who became an Oriental scholar at Cambridge in order to enter the service of the British Foreign Office in Egypt. The army took him away from political work in the near east and made him military governor of the province of Jerusalem with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He now wears the crossed baton and sword of a brigadier-general, but by inclination he is still "Mr. Ronald Storrs."

He is junior only to Major-General Money, chief administrator of the occupied enemy territory administration (south) of the Egyptian expeditionary force of the British army, which under the command of Gen. Sir Edmund H. H. Allenby wrested Palestine from the German-Turkish forces. Under the laws and usages of war, the O. E. T. A. is charged with the duty of administering Palestine merely in the interim between its military occupation and its permanent disposition by the peace conference. It has taken up the task of administration where the enemy left off, and its function is provisionally to enforce the body of Turkish law which the enemy left behind him.

By the letter of military law it is quite possible that the O. E. T. A. should have left Jerusalem's filth exactly where it lay until a permanent form of administration was set up to clean out the house and live in it. But nobody need expect an Englishman to move into a house vacated by a Turk without indulging in an orgy of soap and water. The result is that when a permanent administration is finally set up in Palestine, it will find its house scrubbed, swept and fumigated.

The headquarters of O. E. T. A. (south) are located on the Mount of Olives, near Jerusalem. It divides Palestine into ten provinces, by far the most important of which is the Jerusalem province. This part of the city of Jerusalem to the Dead Sea and north for a distance along the Jordan. It is of this district that Brig.-Gen. Storrs, C.M.G., C.B.E., is military governor.

Gen. Storrs was born in London, where his father, who is now Dean of Rochester, in Kent, was vicar of St. Peter's, Eaton Square. He was educated at Charterhouse, one of England's most famous public schools, and at Cambridge, where he won first class honors in the classical tripos. He began the study of Arabic under a scheme of Lord Cromer, his commissioner for Egypt, for training special service. This was followed by a year's special study under Professor Brown, a widely-known Oriental authority.

In 1904 he came to Egypt to take a position in the office of finance. Soon afterward he became Oriental secretary at the British agency in Cairo under Lord Cromer, a position which he occupied through the commissionarships of Lord Kitchener, Sir Henry MacMahon and Sir Reginald Wingate. Throughout Lord Kitchener's tenure of the Egyptian commissionarship, Mr. Storrs was very closely associated with him.

When the war began, Mr. Storrs participated largely in the political work involved in the setting up of the British protectorate over Egypt. Throughout the war, he rendered exceedingly valuable political services in Arabia and Mesopotamia.

It was in 1917 that the story which will form one of the most fascinating chapters of the war when the time comes for it to be told. He was associated with the late Sir Mark Sykes on the Anglo-French commission on the visit to Bagdad in May and June, 1917. In July of that year, in an attempt to cross the Arabian desert in the height of the summer, he suffered a heat stroke which not only compelled him to abandon the attempt, but to return to England on sick leave. En route, he was torpedoed in the sea. Mooltan, but reached England to spend a month in the secretariat of the war cabinet. He returned to Egypt late in 1917 to resume the same work. Shortly after Gen. Allenby entered Jerusalem, Col. Horton Pasha, who had been made military governor, was compelled to vacate his post by reason of ill-health. It was then, on Dec. 27, 1917, that the military made Mr. Storrs a lieutenant-colonel and gave him the newly evacuated city of Jerusalem.

Jerusalem—foul, starving and utterly chaotic—to clean up. As a result of his work, Jerusalem is now a clean and decent place to live in. Probably it has never been so before, in all its 5,000 years of history.

Physically, Brig.-Gen. Storrs is a big man with a crisp moustache and the ruddy face of an Englishman. He wears the ribbon of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, the Order of the British Empire, the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, the Order of St. Saviour (Greek), and the Order of the Crown of Italy. He is 37, a bachelor and speaks Latin, Greek, French, Italian, Arabic and Hebrew.—Clar Price.

Germans Stole The Gospels

Celebrated Book One of Treasures of Cathedral of Rheims

That Belgium and northern France were systematically robbed by the Germans of everything of value, is becoming more and more apparent every day. This is particularly true of rare books, paintings and products of the fine arts. World wide search, more particularly in Germany, is being made for the celebrated Book of Gospels, which was one of the treasures of the Cathedral of Rheims, which disappeared during the German occupation of that city. The Archbishop of Rheims has received assurances from Rome that endeavors will be made to trace the volume through the Roman Catholic clergy and religious orders in Germany.

The lost volume was magnificently bound and with golden coverings richly set with precious stones, couched in the old Bulgarian language. It was held in the greatest veneration throughout Eastern Europe as the most ancient Slav copy of the Gospel in existence. It is said to have been brought to France in the tenth century by Princess Anna Jagvald, wife of King Henry I. of France, and from that time forth was used at the coronation of every ruler of France at Rheims when he made his vow to safeguard the rights and privileges of the Roman Catholic Church.

The volume was hidden away during the French Revolution, reappearing on the Bourbon restoration in 1815.

Whole collections of rarities have been gathered up and carried away. It is probable that only a small portion will ever be returned to France and Belgium. At some future time, when the dispersal can safely be made, these rarities will be taken from their hiding places and will find their way to the rare book markets of the world.—The Publishers' Weekly.

Stowaways Will Be Deported

How They Managed to Secure Uniforms Is Mystery

Victoria, B.C.—Disguised as Canadian soldiers, the eight Russian stowaways who succeeded in boarding the transport Montclair at Vladivostok are believed to be Bolshevik emissaries sent out to this country with the object of spreading Bolshevik propaganda.

Upon the arrival of the Montclair here, the stowaways, who claimed to be Russian Jews, were kept under strict surveillance, being in charge of an armed guard and will be deported by the liner on her next outward voyage to the Far East.

As they wore full Canadian uniforms, the Russians experienced no difficulty in getting aboard the ship at the Siberian port. They filed up the gangway with the Canadians, and but for the vigilance of the military and ship's officers the prospects of their entry into the country without being suspected appeared extremely bright.

How they managed to secure the uniforms is a complete mystery. Without some assistance, it is remarked by officials, it would have been impossible for them to carry out the deception so effectively.

The teacher was trying to explain the details of overwork to one of the smaller pupils.

"Now, Tommy," she pursued, "if your father were busy all day and said he would have to go back to the office at night, what would he do?"

"That's what we would want to know!"

Geneva Definitely Chosen

As the Home of the New League of Nations

Geneva has been definitely chosen by the Paris peace conference as the home of the new League of Nations.

The choice may not seem the happiest one, as many think Brussels should have been chosen. Brussels is in the cockpit of Europe while Geneva is nestling restfully in the shadow of Mount Blanc has been connected with all the great peace movements of the past.

It was the city of freedom from the days of Adhemar (1387) to Christopher Robin (1388), the cradle of the great humanitarian organization, the Red Cross Society, and the first seat of international arbitration.

Geneva first appears in history in the first century B.C., when it was the capital of the burgundian Kingdom.

The Huguenots had their origin in Geneva, and it was the first city to embrace the reformation promptly.

Geneva was long the home of Calvin, who after Luther was the reformation's most ardent advocate and defender. He founded the Geneva academy in 1540, which soon became the leading Protestant school of theology, and was the cradle of that brand of Protestantism known as Geneva.

Geneva gave birth to Jean Jacques Rousseau, philosopher and writer, the son of a watchmaker.

In 1808 Geneva became the capital of the French department of Leman. In 1814 it joined the Swiss confederation as a 22nd Canton. It possesses a university, art school, art museum, national history museum, a cathedral—St. Peter's—founded by Emperor Conrad II. in 1024; a Hotel de Ville, dating from the sixteenth century.

Geneva became world-famous long ago for its watches; the music-box and watchmaking were invented in Geneva; it has an old Geneva and a new one, ancient and modern history.

Anarchists, spies, the whole intriguing modern underworld of European political life has used Geneva as its own. Here Lenin hatched his dreams of Bolshevik control of the world. Here an anarchist murdered with a knife the beautiful Empress Elizabeth of Austria.

Many congresses have been held in this beautiful city by the lake, and there are several buildings available to house the League of Nations, though it probably will not require a great deal of room for the executive offices.

Evacuation of Odessa

Extremely Serious and May Have Grievous Consequences

Paris, France.—On reaching Paris in May the French consul in Odessa, Mr. Vautier, made the following interesting declaration concerning the evacuation of the town: "There was nothing to lead one to foresee that the town would be abandoned. Many missions sent by the ministries of food supply, commerce and foreign affairs had arrived. General Franchet d'Esperey came at the end of March and he declared that the town would not be abandoned. The local papers published statements to the effect that Paris had decided to defend us, and to revictual the town. French, Colonial and Greek troops with their artillery and material arrived in sufficient numbers to hold at a respectable distance four times as many Bolsheviks as their total number in the whole of the Ukraine. The French colony organized many guest houses for the soldiers. There was a feeling of complete confidence in the town."

Suddenly, on April 2, General Franchet d'Esperey communicated to the consuls that the difficulties of evacuation would be considerable. On the following day the order was given that the foreign colonies were to be evacuated within 24 hours. The order for evacuation was couched in formal and imperative terms. The French, British, Italian, Belgian and Greek colonies embarked on April 4 and 5 with their consuls. About 100 French nationals did not wish to leave and remained under consular protection. A very great number of Russians embarked in ships which were put at their disposal by the French authorities. The troops reached the right bank of the Danister by land.

The consuls decided by saying: "It is serious, extremely serious, and may have grievous consequences."

Interest In Rural Schools

Alberta Has Highest Average School Attendance

Alberta has approximately 2,430 rural schools, 57,600 consolidated schools, 104 village schools, and 73 town schools, which are attended by 112,900 pupils.

Consolidated schools are becoming more general throughout the province, and in addition to the number mentioned, the village schools generally serve the same purpose. Many of them maintain bus services to call for the children at their homes in the morning, and convey them home in the evening. These busses serve a radius of about eight or ten miles.

A high average rate of attendance has always been maintained at the rural schools of Alberta. One school in Central Alberta, the Mary's Villa school, which is attended by farm children only, some of them going considerable distances, has a record of three years in succession of an actual attendance of 99 per cent. of its enrolment. This school, as is customary throughout the province, is operated during the winter, closing only for ten days at Christmas time. But this high percentage is above the average of a rural school's attendance.

A high average attendance is maintained at the consolidated schools, which are able to arrange for the children to be picked up almost at the door of their own homes, convey them to school and bring them back again in the evening without any inconvenience and delay. They thus arrive at the school in good time in the morning without being bothered by walking, and they are not faced with a wearisome walk homewards in the evening.

The larger number of pupils attending a consolidated school make for greater sociability and rivalry by walking, and they are not faced with a wearisome walk homewards in the evening. The pupils find the school more attractive and the work more interesting and therefore have more incentive to attend.

On account of the many advantages of the consolidated school, it is not to be wondered that great interest is taken in them, and new ones are constantly being established.

Commercial Seed Growing

Should Become One of the Most Important Industries of Western Canada

The growing of seed on a commercial scale should become one of the most important industries of Western Canada. The three Prairie Provinces have already gained a world-wide reputation for the excellence of their seed grain, and it has been practically demonstrated that other crops can be grown equally as well. Farmers from these provinces have always won many of the prizes for alfalfa, peas, all kinds of forage grasses, potatoes and vegetable seed, in addition to seed grain, at the leading international exhibitions on the American continent. Timely seed production has grown to be a substantial industry in parts of Alberta, and a ready market is available for all that is grown.

Under irrigation in Southern Alberta the production of seed will, no doubt, become a big factor in the development of these large areas. The success that has been obtained on one and a half to three-acre plots with various kinds of clover seed has clearly demonstrated the great possibilities with this seed on larger plots.

It is interesting to learn that the Western Canada Irrigation Association propose to discuss commercial seed growing at the convention which is to be held at Medicine Hat, Alberta, August 4th, 5th and 6th. Papers will be read by some of the most eminent authorities on the continent, and from the discussion, in which many practical farmers will participate, much valuable information on this important phase of agriculture should be disclosed.

The once lowly potato is getting so high in price that it will soon be refused to associate with anybody but new laid eggs.

Horse Scarcity Developing

Surplus In The Old Country Evidently Less Than Calculated

A strong horse market for the last few weeks has been coincident with reports of a small fall crop in all horsebreeding districts, says the Breeder's Gazette. Shippers are complaining that some sections which in years past have had horses to sell are now bare of offerings. Farmers and breeders verify these reports, and cite localities and counties where the horses on hand are barely sufficient to do the spring work, whereas for many years there have been horses for sale all spring.

The Swiss government is buying horses at Chicago, so it is evident that Europe was not left overstocked with war horses at the close of hostilities. The army horses exposed at auction the last few months by the United States government have been absorbed with remarkable eagerness, considering their large numbers. Many of these went back to the farms. Last year the purchase of these same horses from farmers helped to boost the market; this year their return to farmers has exerted a depressing effect. Even at that the decline in prices even in the darkest days this spring was less than some of the shrewdest market operators had predicted. The surplus back in the country was evidently less than they calculated, the farm surplus was also greater than they thought.

Now that this wreckage of the war has been largely cleared away we may expect horse movements and horse prices to indicate once more the real foundation on which the trade rests. Men who are on the fence right now, undecided as to whether to breed mares or skip another year, should give these market factors the closest consideration. Events of the next few weeks may serve to indicate that a real horse scarcity is beginning to be felt. If this is the case, its pressure may be severe before the next crop of foals grows to maturity and market age.

Britain's Silver Bullets

Made to Fight for Common Cause in Widely Separated Fields

Throughout the war Great Britain made her wealth fight. Most of it fought for herself, but a large part was dealt out to her allies and to her dominions, and was made to fight for the common cause in widely separated fields.

Expressing sums in round numbers and converting pounds into dollars, it can be stated that of the total of $30,000,000,000, some one of the most important industries of Western Canada. The three Prairie Provinces have already gained a world-wide reputation for the excellence of their seed grain, and it has been practically demonstrated that other crops can be grown equally as well. Farmers from these provinces have always won many of the prizes for alfalfa, peas, all kinds of forage grasses, potatoes and vegetable seed, in addition to seed grain, at the leading international exhibitions on the American continent. Timely seed production has grown to be a substantial industry in parts of Alberta, and a ready market is available for all that is grown.

The sum advanced to the allies were approximately as follows: To Russia, $2,200,000,000; to France, $1,300,000,000; to Italy, $1,200,000,000; to Belgium, $200,000,000; to other states, $100,000,000.

Britain fired her own shells of lead; she used many of her silver bullets, but not all.

The Sheep Industry

New Blood Is Secured for Saskatchewan Flocks

Last year the Livestock Branch of the Saskatchewan department of agriculture imported a number of Rambouillet rams and ewes and distributed them among sheep owners in the province. They have proved well adapted to Saskatchewan conditions, and the importance will probably be made into the province this year. During the last few years many farmers in Saskatchewan have found that a flock of sheep on their farm is one of the best money makers they can have, and it is not surprising that more and more are entering into the business. The interest that is being shown in the improvement of the flocks is another step in the advance of the industry. There are now numbers of flocks of pure bred sheep in various parts of the province, returning their owners a steady income out of all proportion to the initial cost of breeding stock.

Help for Farmers

Regina, Sask.—According to the announcement of A. E. Wilson, seed grain commissioner of the Dominion government with headquarters here, the sum of $5,000,000 was expended for the relief of farmers who experienced a shortage of crop with consequent lack of seed grain, in the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Nearly 4,000,000 bushels of seed grain were distributed between last fall and this spring.

Japan Sends More Troops to Russia

Tokio—Japan is sending reinforcements, consisting of a brigade of infantry and a company each of cavalry and engineers, to Vladivostok, because of conditions existing in the maritime province of Siberia, it is officially announced. The Bolsheviks recently have been active in this region, and the announcement says, "have often attacked Japanese contingents, causing casualties."

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to relieve them promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by government analysis to be absolutely harmless even to the new-born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Where Babies Are Salted

The strange custom of salting new-born babies is still practiced in certain regions of Europe and Asia. The method varies with the differing nationalities of the peoples employing it. The Armenians of Russia cover the entire skin of the infant with very fine salt. This is left on the baby for three hours or more, when it is washed off with warm water.

A mountain tribe of Asia Minor are even more peculiar in this regard than the Armenians, for they are alleged to keep their new-born babies covered with salt for a period of 24 hours. The modern Greeks also sprinkle their babies with salt. The mothers imagine that this practice brings health and strength to their offspring, and serves to keep away the evil spirits as well.

International Air Race Announced

Toronto.—An international aerial race, which will start simultaneously from Toronto and New York, will be held on August 25 with the Prince of Wales as the starter. It has been announced here. Stops will be made at Buffalo, Syracuse and Albany.

A prize of $5,000 and a trophy have been offered by John M. Bowman, of New York. It is expected there will be more than two score entries.

The Foe of Indigestion.—Indigestion is a common ailment and few are free from it. It is a most distressing complaint and often the suffering attending it is most severe. The very best remedy is Parmer's Vegetable Pills taken according to directions. They rectify the irregular action of the stomach and restore healthy action. For many years they have been a standard remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion, and are highly esteemed for their qualities.

Hung Hats on Kitchener's Peg

"Hang your hat on Kitchener's peg" was the word that went down the line when a group of United States fighting men passed through the peer's lobby in the House of Lords, London. And every American took off his hat and hung it for a second on the peg that bore the name of Lord Kitchener. It was a breach of regulations, but a showing of regard for the dead field marshal that the British appreciated.

Ship Centennarians.—The ship of today, even without any submarine risks cannot hope to attain the ripe old age of its forerunners. Nelson's Victory was about 40 years old when she took part in the battle of Trafalgar, and the Betsy Cairns, which, according to tradition, brought over William and Mary in 1688, survived until 1824, when she was wrecked at the mouth of the Tyne.

Spring Fever
—What Is It?

THREE o'clock in the afternoon — and absolutely no "pep." You call it spring fever, but is it?

When you are constipated waste matter remains in the intestines, decays, forms poisons which are absorbed into your blood and carried by it to every cell in your body. When your cells are thus poisoned, of course you have no "pep."

Pills, salts, mineral waters, castor oil, etc., merely force the bowels to act, and make constipation and self-poisoning a habit. Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels.

Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and watch your "pep" come back.

Warning.—Nujol is sold in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All druggists insist on Nujol. You may prefer from illustration.

Alfalfa Supreme
By Chemical Test

Found to Be Much the Highest in Fat

In a report issued from the chemist's department of the Manitoba Agricultural College, corn, Sudan grass, millet, alfalfa, cereals, rape, and buckwheat are compared as to their feeding values. The analysis turns out very favorably to alfalfa, which in its natural state is found to be about double its closest competitor among the cereals in protein, 50 per cent higher than Sudan grass in carbohydrates, and much the highest in fat. On account of the stems the ash content is fairly high, however. Sudan grass is medium high in protein, very high in heat-forming elements (it should be especially valuable here in winter feeding), and contains nearly 1 1/2 per cent of fat. Cereals and peas, and corn stand about third in the list in feeding value. The high succulence of corn is of especial value in feeding dairy animals.

Municipal District Voters' List

Prior, to the year 1917 the right to vote at an election for Councillors for a Municipal District was limited to the parties who were assessed for land. In the year 1917, however, the right to vote for Councillors was extended to include the wives, husbands, sons and daughters of the persons assessed, provided such wives, husbands, sons and daughters were twenty-one years of age and resident within the boundaries of the municipality. It was felt that the relatives of the owners or occupants of land were by their industry assisting both directly and indirectly in the progress and work of the Municipality and therefore it seemed only fair that they should have a right to say who they wished to carry on the business of the Municipality.

The amendment to the Act, however, which made provisions for these parties voting, placed upon the Secretary-Treasurer the burden of finding out who the parties were that were entitled to vote because of their relation to persons who were assessed, and of having their names placed on the Voters' List. It was found that it was impossible for a Secretary-Treasurer without a great amount of labor to make a complete list of these people. For example, sons and daughters of persons assessed are entitled to have their names on the Voters' List when they become twenty-one years of age, and when the Secretary-Treasurer was required to make up the list it was absolutely impossible for him to do so properly without making a canvass of the entire district each year, inquiring as to when those parties became of age, and also as to whether or not they were resident in the Municipality. This being the case it was felt to be unfair that such a burden should be placed on that official, therefore, at the last session of the Legislature, the Hon. A. G. MacKay, Minister of Municipal Affairs, introduced an amendment which has now become law, requiring all persons who were entitled to vote at an election for Councillors, because of their being wives, husbands, sons or daughters of persons assessed, to register their names with the Secretary-Treasurer.

All parties entitled to vote because of their relationship to a person assessed must make application to have their names placed on the Voters' List, otherwise they will not be able to vote at the election for Councillors. Such application must be made to the Secretary-Treasurer of the district some time between November 1st and December 31st both inclusive of each year, during the usual office hours. Application may be made personally by the person claiming the right to vote, or it may be made through an applicant claims the right to vote. All persons who are of the opinion they have the right to vote under this provision should therefore be careful to make application to have their names placed on the Voters' Lists in due time, so that they may be able to cast their ballots at the next election for Municipal District Councillors.

Another amendment to the provisions of the Municipal District Act in connection with the Voters' List should also be noted. That is an amendment to Section 88 of the Municipal District Act, which requires a copy of the Voters' List to be posted up at some central place in each division in the Municipal District. As the Act formerly stood, it only required that there should be a copy of the Voters' List posted in the Secretary-Treasurer's office. This was inconvenient, because it frequently meant a special trip of quite a few miles, if an elector wished to find out whether or not his name was on the Voters' List.

Unless the business of a Municipality is controlled by an active and intelligent public opinion, there cannot be the results there should be from our Municipal Organizations. With the widening of the franchise and a making of additional provision whereby parties entitled to vote may make sure that their names are on the Voters' List, there will be an incentive to greater interest being taken in Municipal matters, as one of the weak spots in Rural Municipal Organization in the past has been the lack of interest on the part of the majority of the electors as to who should be elected Councillors.
